

Re-Thinking Investing In Growth

Do Employees Come Last?

Think of all the things a typical company must do, before even being able to add a new team member. It's not just the time, investment, or inflexibility – it's about where we focus our attention and creative energy.

Get Right To Work with Relay

Each Relay team member “comes with” all the things needed to be productive. Your company has no long-term commitments and consumes things like office space and infrastructure on a per-person, as-needed basis.

Relay provides people who come with infrastructure – it's a better model for growth.